

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Christine Hadley
(425) 739-7154
chadley@greenpnt.com

Greenpoint Technologies Gives Back to Local Community

Kirkland, WA – May 8, 2012 – Employees of Greenpoint Technologies, a premier VIP completions center for Boeing Business Jets based in Kirkland, WA, worked together to make a positive impact on a Seattle residence.

2012 marks the 5th year Greenpoint has participated in the Rebuilding Together event. Rebuilding Together Seattle is a charitable organization that repairs homes at no cost to homeowners struggling with limited income; particularly the elderly, disabled, families with children and veterans. A team of over 60 employees and family members worked on the Seattle home installing new flooring and ceilings, replacing kitchen appliances, painting, cleaning, and planting and weeding the gardens.

“It is so rewarding to arrive and see a house that is somewhat debilitated and leave it a better place,” said Sloan Benson Greenpoint Executive Vice President. “Our core values of fun, integrity, teamwork and community – everything we strive for in the office – came together during this project.”

Scott Goodey Greenpoint President and Team

Sloan Benson Greenpoint EVP

Greenpoint Technologies is a premier completion center for Boeing Business Jets, established in 1988. Greenpoint provides turnkey VIP aircraft interiors for private individuals and heads-of-state clients. In-house talent includes interior design, engineering, program management, manufacturing, and certification for interior installations and modifications. Strategic goals focus on the customer experience by incorporating quality, commitment, and craftsmanship into every completion. To learn more about Greenpoint Technologies, visit www.greenpnt.com.

###