Greenpoint Technologies Receives AS9100C Certification

Kirkland, WA – July 24, 2012 – Greenpoint Technologies, a premier VIP completions center for Boeing Business Jets \(BBJ\), receives AS9100 Rev C (AS9100:2009) Aerospace Quality Standard System Certification and continues on-time deliveries.

This achievement represents Greenpoint's robust systems and process driven framework. AS9100 Rev C mandates increased evaluation of program risks with regard to planning, process effectiveness, quality and on-time delivery while monitoring customer satisfaction. The company lives the AS9100 way of life. Maintaining a 98.9% on-time delivery rate and high customer survey scores demonstrates the process is effective.

A confidential customer described their working relationship with a Greenpoint team member regarding a recent on-time delivery. "I believe James Jarriault, Greenpoint's Certification Engineer and DER, did an outstanding job on our program. He had hurdles to overcome and many hurdles thrown at him. He managed these challenges with apparent ease and an ever present calm that was amazing."

Greenpoint continues to perform to plan on a 747-8 VIP completion, Boeing Business Jet completions and the 747-8 Aeroloft™ products line.
