GREENPOINT TECHNOLOGIES CONTRACTS NEW BBJ3 COMPLETION

October 14, 2010

Kirkland, WA

Greenpoint contracts a full VVIP interior completion for a new “green” Boeing Business Jet 3 (BBJ3) with an undisclosed Middle Eastern client. This is Greenpoint’s second contract for a full green interior completion this year. The aircraft inducts in 2011 and is scheduled to redeliver in 2012. The BBJ3’s interior and décor is being developed in-house working closely with the client and a private designer. Greenpoint’s in-house design studio provides interior designers and 3D modelers who develop photo-realistic renderings to assist with material selection during the initial design process. “The interior is VVIP with state-of-the-art systems,” states Sloan Benson, Greenpoint’s Executive Vice President.

Greenpoint is also speaking with 747-8 head-of-state clients about the new Aerolift and additional Aerolofts™. Clients desire to minimize the completion downtime while integrating Greenpoint’s unique 747-8 products.

Presently working on multiple BBJs, including three (3) VVIP completions and refurbishment programs, Greenpoint maintains on-time deliveries positioning themselves for future business jet and 747-8 programs.
