

GREENPOINT TECHNOLOGIES INDUCTS 16TH BBJ

March 17, 2009

Kirkland, WA

Greenpoint Technologies (GTI) inducted their sixteenth (16th) Boeing Business Jet (BBJ) in late February with re-delivery scheduled for fourth quarter this year.

The interior was designed in-house, lead by Annika Svore-Wicklund, GTI's Interior Design Manager. "The interior of this BBJ represents the height of old world elegance. The leather has a beautiful, full-grain antiqued effect, the veneer is a vibrant play of natural Anegre and dark stained Karilian burl, and the carpet has a radiant silk floral medallion centered in the living area." Additionally, this aircraft has state-of-the-art technical features including a Karaoke system.

Greenpoint is currently designing additional BBJs, inputting for completion in 2010 and 2011.
