

PRESS RELEASE

NEW VICE PRESIDENT OF PROGRAMS APPOINTED AT GREENPOINT TECHNOLOGIES

June 14, 2010

Kirkland, WA

Adrian Osborn has been appointed Vice President of Programs for Greenpoint Technologies, Inc., located in Kirkland, WA.

Adrian Osborn joins Greenpoint with twenty five (25) years of experience in aircraft interior products and integration. Mr. Osborn's tenure includes, Managing Director leading the operations of Britax Aircraft Cabin Interiors. Prior to Greenpoint, Mr. Osborn held various senior level positions at Heath Tecna Inc., most recently as Vice President of OEM Programs, where he led a highly successful implementation of Lean Manufacturing processes utilizing Shingijutsu Kaizen methodology he attained while in Japan. Mr. Osborn's extensive career includes program execution ranging from small and large product programs, to full scale re-configuration, integration and certification programs.

"Joining Greenpoint is a fantastic experience. They are passionate and focused on performing for their customer - I'm excited to be able to use my experience to help. The VIP market is a little different from the commercial aircraft market; there is plenty to learn and I am enjoying the challenges. Greenpoint programs are both creative and interesting, and we have a wonderful work ethic and environment. I've received a great welcome from everyone and am looking forward to assisting an already great team."
